TO

MARY HALL POLLARD
(Mrs. James Claiborne Pollard)

who, as librarian and archivist in the Virginia State Library has helped countless thousands search the records; who has daily given generously of her time and vast knowledge of Virginiana to further the efforts of those searchers.

From two who love her,

Blanche and Kitty

FOREWORD

The records of Southampton County are intact. The first recorded marriage is 19 January, 1750, although the county was formed in 1749, cut from Isle of Wight and Nansemond.

The records of Isle of Wight County not only exist but have been abstracted and published. The records of Nansemond have been destroyed.

The apparent discrepancies in spelling of names need not cause the genealogical researchers concern. The names of the bride and groom in the body of the bond were written by the clerk and often do not conform to the spelling in the signatures in the consent notes and the bonds. The latter were written by the participants themselves, therefore, may be considered the correct spelling.

The words "security" and "surety" were used interchangeably for designating the bondsmen.
